

Here are directions on how to pay for your order with a bank deposit. Note that you do not need a bank account with any of these banks to make a deposit. You will be making a deposit into someone else account to buy bitcoins from them. The bank teller should not ask you why you are making the deposit, but if they do you can tell them that's it's personal. You are making a completely legal purchase of bitcoin. Note that you will need to deposit more than your total due to the fees associated with buying bitcoin.

- 1) Begin by taking note of the information you received after you placed the order. You should have received an email with this information as well:

This is your wallet address

- 2) Next visit <https://bitquick.co> and put in the bitcoin amount we gave you and hit "continue":

The screenshot shows the 'Buy' section of the Bitquick.co website. At the top, there are 'Buy' and 'Sell' buttons. Below them, the text reads 'Amount to purchase at about $9,490.06 per bitcoin:'. There are two input fields: one for the dollar amount (currently '315.24') and one for the bitcoin amount (currently '.03291'). A red arrow points from the text 'Put in the amount of bitcoin we gave you here and press continue.' to the bitcoin input field. Another red arrow points from the text 'Do NOT put in the dollar amount.' to the dollar input field. Below the input fields, there is a 'SELECT CRYPTO' button with a Bitcoin icon. At the bottom, there is a large orange button with a right-pointing arrow and the text 'CONTINUE'. Small text at the bottom of the form states: 'We charge a 2% service fee and a 0.000318603018 BTC mining fee. The minimum purchase is currently 0.000955809054 BTC ($8.88) to account for mining fees. Users who have not completed an ID scan have a purchase limit of $400.00. You can view your purchase limits and scan your ID here.'

3) Next Click continue (unless you want to pay with Western Union or Moneygram).

 Next, please choose a payment method.

These are your options based on the buy amount you entered:

- Make a cash deposit to a seller's bank or credit union account
- Send money to a seller with Western Union or MoneyGram

4) Next choose a bank near you. Note that the lower the dollar amount per bitcoin the lower the price you'll pay so pick the lowest that you can (you'll always pay more than the value of the bitcoin because the people selling the bitcoin want to make a profit).

← Back a step

 Next, choose a financial institution with locations near you.

Below are the best offers for the amount you specified. Be sure to choose a financial institution that has a location you can visit within 3 hours of placing your hold.

-  Capital One: $9,270.99 per bitcoin
-  Bank of America: $9,377.77 per bitcoin
-  Credit Union with Shared Branching: $9,748.10 per bitcoin
-  Navy Federal Credit Union: $10,027.60 per bitcoin
-  TD USA: $10,151.73 per bitcoin
-  Citizens Bank: $10,207.36 per bitcoin
-  OceanFirst Bank: $10,658.80 per bitcoin
-  M&T Bank: $10,658.80 per bitcoin
-  Santander Bank: $10,658.80 per bitcoin
-  Regions Bank: $11,588.74 per bitcoin

5) On the next page you must verify your phone number. Don't worry you are making a perfectly legal purchase of bitcoin! When you're verified, it will also ask you for your name and state. Then put in the wallet we gave you. The best way to do it is to copy and paste it so no mistakes (it must be exact but if you get a letter off don't worry it will just tell you it's an invalid address).

This next step is important. You must put in the bitcoin amount we gave you a second time (this is a weird glitch in bitquick).

Finally agree to the terms and hit the "Buy" button at the bottom.
